TABLEAU OF REAL "TEA FOR TWO" IS UNFOLDED HERE AS DAUGHTER DISCOVERS MOTHER

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT We read romances every day. Some of us see them unfold, but Mrs. Harold Martin is the happiest young matron in Santa Ana if not in California, for she is living a true story-book romance. This is a romance of family life and affection, which Mrs. Martin has known in full measure, and which has just been increased by one of those strange coincidences that we read about but seldom experience.

to take the place of the children they never had.

All Trace Lost

As years passed, the Stewarts lost all trace of the real mother of their little daughter, and after they came to California, where Stewart is engaged in ranching, he returned to Tucson to try to learn something of the whereabouts of the baby's mother and sister. In the meantime the latter too had come to California. The mother married again, and as Mrs. Albert Plasterer has been living in Ontario for several years. Her daughter Mary, grown to womanhood, was for some two years employed in the Santa Ana telephone office.

Not long ago the daughter of the Stewart home, now Mrs. Harold Martin, dropped in at the Ryan grocery, 1736 West Fifth street, to make a purchase. Miss Edith Holloway, there to see her sister, a grocery employee, commented on her resemblance to one of her own friends, named "Mary." "Why I have a sister Mary whom I have never seen," exclaimed Mrs. Martin.

Why She Is Happy

And that was the beginning of the story of yesterday's pleasant tea for the "Sister Mary" is now Mrs. Harold Carlock of San Fernando, and she brought the long-separated mother and daughter together.

The addition of a new mother and sister to the love and understanding of the parents she has always known, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, and of the two brothers that later came to the Stewart home, explains why Mrs. Martin is the happiest young matron in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are just as happy, and with deep unselfishness, are sharing the child who is as dear as an own daughter could be, with her real mother. Yesterday's party was to make it possible for Mrs. Plasterer to know some of the friends they have gained in their years of residence here.

Many Guests

Fruit trees of the ranch yielded of their loveliest flowers for garlanding the West Fifth street home. The gardens were rife with tulips, ranunculus and iris, and especially effective were the clusters of white iris and delicate coral tamarack.

Mrs. Stewart included on her list of guests to join with her and her daughter to welcome Mrs. Plasterer, Miss Edith Holloway who had been the "god in the machine," Mesdames Harry Harper, M. Merchant, L. D. Stewart, Harry Pritchard, O. A. Harman, G. W. Ross, Sidney Kilgore, Katherine Lapham, Joan Shafer, Edward Nichols, Earl Patterson, Frank Gibbs, Stewart Gibbs and Fern Bowen.

Mrs. Plasterer had arrived in time to spend Easter in her daughter's home, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and their sons had planned a dinner party in her honor.

PROTESTS SENT VATICAN ON REBEL ASSASSINATIONS

BILBAO, Spain, April 1.—(UP)—The Loyalist Basque government has protested to the Vatican against assassinations by Nationalists of Roman Catholic priests supporting the Loyalist cause, President Jose Antonio De Aguirre announced today.

Aguirre also broadcast an appeal both to the Vatican and to the Roman Catholic hierarchy to raise the voice of the church in vigorous protest against the use by the Nationalists of Moors against Loyalist Catholics.

He promised there would be complete freedom of religion in the Basque provinces—the provinces of Biscaye, Navarre, Alava and Guipuzcoa in the north bordering on the Bay of Biscay and France.

COAL MEN BACK AT WORK SOON

NEW YORK, April 1.—(UP)—A leading figure among coal operators negotiating the new Appalachian bituminous contract said today that an agreement seemed imminent and that it was hoped it could be concluded in time to permit 400,000 miners in a dozen states to resume work tomorrow.

This operator, who would not permit his name to be used, said that while producers on the negotiating committee of 16 put off action last night on a proposed compromise agreement, he believed they were set to approve it today.

A meeting of the committee of 16, composed of operators and United Mine Workers' representatives, was called for 3 p. m. The full wage conference of 300 members was called to meet at 4 p. m.

The previous contract expired last midnight. Bituminous miners will not return to work until the new one is signed.

Mines were shut down today, but they have been anyway as April 1 is a holiday—"John L. Lewis Day".

The sons of the home are Oliver Stewart, who since graduation from Santa Ana High school has been associated with his father in ranching, and Elbert Stewart who will be a member of this year's class graduating from junior college.

GEDEON RITES ATTRACT 5000

NEW YORK, April 1.—(UP)—

Joseph Gedeon sat tearless in custody of two detectives today while the Rev. John Sheedy, a friend of the family, conducted funeral services for his wife and daughter, who were strangled to death Easter Sunday.

The little upholsterer exhibited no signs of emotional stress during the 20 minute Catholic service for the murder victims—Mrs. Mary Gedeon, 54, and Veronica, pretty 20-year-old artist's model.

More than 5000 persons jammed both sides of the street in front of the funeral parlor.

Gedeon has not been charged with any offense although police said they might file a charge for possession of arms because of a pistol they found in his upholstery shop.

Detectives found a brown coat in Gedeon's shop which they sent to the police laboratory for analysis. The trousers to the suit could not be found. Patrons of the bar where Gedeon said he spent Saturday night and Sunday morning—the hours when the two women and their boarder, Frank Byrnes, were killed—said the upholsterer was wearing a brown suit that night. He said he wore a gray one.

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—(UP)—John Patantius, roomer at the home of slain Veronica Gedeon in New York recently, was located here today by police. He furnished police here with what they described as a "good clue" in the slaying of the beautiful model when he declared Veronica informed him a week before her death she intended to break off an affair with an artist.

Officers quoted Patantius as informing them that because of her asserted illicit affairs with the artist, Miss Gedeon was forced to undergo an illegal operation.

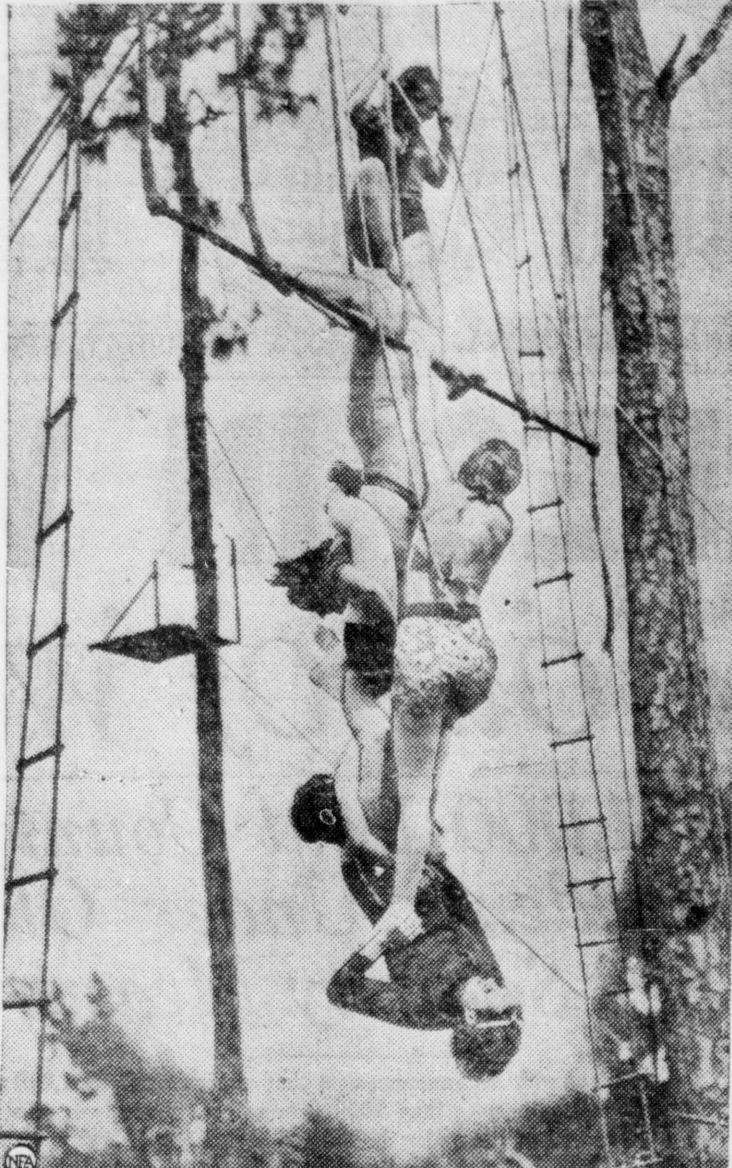

WATER PROJECT DISCUSSED HERE

Proposals for establishment of a water spreading project in Santiago creek to save water that now is flowing to the ocean, were being discussed today at a special meeting of the Orange County Water district board of directors.

The meeting was called when it was revealed that from 125 to 130 acre feet of water are daily pouring over the Santiago dam spillway and into the creek. This water is flowing to the ocean.

If the directors decide that a spreading project is feasible plans will be prepared for its establishment, probably as a WPA project similar to one now being operated on the Santa Ana river, under direction of Director W. C. Maurerhan.

Out on a Limb in Aerial Hold Up

It took a lot of figure stretching to budget this balance, but the circus performers who did it in training quarters at Sarasota, Fla., figured the stunt would multiply fun when the season opened. At least, it promised plenty of suspense while spectators figured out how many persons were involved in the mid-air hold up.

BREAKFASTS OF COUNTY HEADS EVEN SCANNED BY PURCHASING AGENT; DIET OF CARROTS SEEN

By GEORGE HART

A county official was passing a cafe near the courthouse yesterday, and what he saw inside at the counter caused him to gasp. There were County Auditor W. T. Lambert and his chief deputy, L. H. Eckel. Between them was Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon.

The county official dashed back to the courthouse and spread the news. "Blazes!" he cried to other department heads, "has it come to this, that we now must order even our breakfasts through the purchasing agent?"

Presumably, if the official orders ham and eggs, the purchasing agent will scan the menu and change the order to hot cakes. Or he may decide that the farmers aren't getting their share of county business, and the official will have to nibble a carrot with his morning coffee.

With respect to the impending flood control project, there is food for thought in the current issue of California Highways magazine, published by the state department of public works. The issue contains a page of photographs showing flood damage from the recent storm. Of the nine pictures, five are of Orange county scenes. That seems to show who needs flood protection.

District Attorney Menton has said, unofficially, that the county supervisors have authority to exercise general supervision over county departments, to see that they are legally conducted. In other words, the supervisor is a sort of policeman.

And that suggests some advice to the supervisors: It might be smart to pay that bill for new light fixtures, which Superior Judge James L. Allen ordered the sheriff to have installed in his courtroom. The judge might take a notion to cite somebody into his court for contempt. It would be odd to see a policeman in his own jail.

VIOLENCE FLARES IN W. P. A. STRIKE

Peaceful picketing marked the start of the San Francisco strike. Lines were established at projects on which all or a portion of the workers had quit, while small groups picketed the offices of William R. Lawson, state WPA administrator.

Oakland WPA officials were unable to make a complete check on the number of men out on projects, but the number was expected to exceed 700.

State and district WPA executives on both sides of the bay said work on projects would continue on all projects as long as any employees were willing to continue, but that no attempts would be made to keep the projects running by employing new workers.

More than 400 men quit three street projects in Oakland, the Oakland street department reported, while 60 persons employed in health department projects were also out in addition to other "white collar" workers on scattered projects.

The strike was called when Lawson told Workers' Alliance representatives he was unauthorized to meet their demands for 10 per cent wage increases and assurances of no further layoffs before June 30.

action" but declined to say whether he believed the situation justified the president's court plan.

Testifying against the Roosevelt proposal, he said he believed the chief danger in the president's program law "in not following the normal way."

Claim Program Losing

Opponents of the judiciary program claimed today that the administration is losing ground in its own tabulation of congressional support for enlargement of the supreme court.

"There would not be 35 votes in the senate for the pending judiciary bill if it were brought to a vote today," Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., asserted in surveying this week's offensive against the measure.

"The administration might get a majority if they cut the proposed increase of justices from six to two."

ACTION DUE ON PROPAGANDA QUIZ

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(UP)—

The house rules committee voted today to give right of way for house action on the Dickstein Resolution setting up a special house committee of seven to investigate un-American propaganda of alleged Nazi Fascist and Communist origin.

Action on the resolution came after Chairman Samuel Dickstein, D. N. Y., of the house immigration committee had charged during hearings that Fritz Kuhn, a former employee of the Ford Motor company, was leader of a Nazi organization with strength in the United States of 200,000.

The committee would be empowered to investigate financing, organization and extent to which the mails were used with the purpose of "diffusing slanderous or libelous un-American propaganda or religious, racial or subversive political prejudices."

charged it would lift a large portion of the Southern California load to other counties in the state, raising tax rates in 33 northern counties.

So many amendments were offered and made that few persons had a thoroughly clear conception of the bill as finally passed. Generally, however, it would make counties responsible for the administration of relief and establish the specific amount of liability of the state and counties. Cities and counties would be required to finance their own relief burdens up to a sum totaling five cents on each $100 assessed property valuation. The state would share equally in costs ranging from five to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation, and all expenditures required above that total would be borne by the state alone.

PERMITS OVER THREE MONTHS REVEAL BOOST

Presaging a banner building year for Santa Ana, permits for all types of construction here during the first three months of this year totaled $115,960 more than the corresponding period of last year.

Permits for last March aggregated $32,900 more than the same month of last year.

These were announcements today of Building Inspector Harold O. Rasmussen, who compiled the figures that graphically show the recent sharp upturn in all kinds of construction in this and neighboring communities, where similar reports were made.

37 Homes Built
Furthermore, Rasmussen pointed out, the building of 31 homes in the first three months of 1937, was ahead of home construction for the entire years of 1932, 1933 and 1934, when 30, 24 and 27 residences, respectively, were erected here.

During the first three months of 1936, 210 permits were granted by the building department for construction valued at $198,653, while the first three months of this year showed 335 permits granted at valuation of $214,618.

In March, 1936, 67 permits were issued, valuation $78,438, as against 135 permits, valuation, $111,338, for March, 1937. February, 1937, valuation ran slightly ahead of the March figure for this year, although permits were fewer; in February, 1937, 115 permits were granted for construction valued at $117,019.

Two Schools
Since and including 1932, no construction valuation has gone ahead of the 1937 three-months-period figure with the exception of 1935, but the latter figure of $430,321 included construction of two schools valued at $330,000. Even the earthquake year, 1933, fell behind 1937, for the first three months, in valuation, in spite of the 368 permits, mostly for repairs, issued in three months. The 1933 three-months valuation was $196,381. The 1932 figures for three months were 123 permits, valuation, $154,884; 1934, 149 permits, valuation, $55,395. Of the 368 permits for three months in 1933, 314 were issued as result of the earthquake.

The first three months of construction activity this year included: 37 residences, $179,050; 66 residence alterations, $16,473; 7 business buildings, $27,560; 28 business alterations, $29,957; one apartment, $25,000; one duplex, $5200; one public garage, $1485; 4 service stations, $6000, and 176 reroofing, $19,426.

Sister Ship Of Amelia's Lands Here for Help

William Hottle, pilot for the Haliburton Oil Well Cementing company, and for Earl Haliburton, was grounded here yesterday afternoon when the company's Lockheed-12, sister ship to Amelia Earhart's "Flying Laboratory" developed a defective landing gear.

Hottle landed the huge plane, used by Haliburton for trips between his office in Duncan, Okla., and a gold mine he owns in Honduras, at the Eddie Martin Airport while he ate lunch and visited with friends at the flying field.

Shortly before he was ready to leave he had the plane turned for news photographers and it was while the ship was turning that something sheared off in the left landing gear mechanism.

A telephone call to the Lockheed factory in Burbank brought a repair crew to the airport where they worked until almost midnight replacing the defective gear. Hottle left this morning for Burbank airport where the plane is based while Haliburton and his pilot are in Los Angeles.

Toss Howe, Scribe of 29, was acting Scribe of 26, handling the meeting minutes. With the meeting opening by Acting Senior Patrol Leader Vernon Ashby of Troop 29, David Martin of the same troop presented the Flag salute. The Laws were given by Kenneth Lindahl, the Scout oath by Leslie Crawford. Scoutmaster Lane introduced members of the police Scout committee, Chairman Hunter Leach, Major A. F. Moulton and W. H. Heard. David Martin spoke upon the general activities of Boy Scouts, while Ashby told what Scouting is and how it is taught.

In the squad room gymnasium, the new Scouts learned No. 1 lesson in knot tying. The meeting closed with the Scoutmaster's prayer. Next meeting will be next Wednesday night at 7 p. m.

First Graders Gets First Train Ride

First grade students of the Woodrow Wilson school today had the novel experience of taking a train ride. With many children never getting an opportunity to ride on a train, Miss Lillian McDonald solved the situation by taking her scholars to Anaheim and back this morning.

The group left Santa Ana at 9:34 and after a short stay at the Anaheim station, returned to Santa Ana on a southbound Santa Fe train. Tariff for the round trip was 16 cents each.

Rummage Sale Off "On Wings"

Although today was officially the opening day of the widely advertised rummage sale of Santa Ana Assistance League at 412 East Fourth street, the affair got off to a flying start yesterday. For league members at the storeroom to receive and arrange donations, found such crowds of eager purchasers that many advance sales were made, netting a nice sum with which to begin today's operations.

Many "human interest" stories developed. For instance there was the young Japanese couple, who purchased so many articles (including a very pretty coat for the wife, somewhat against the judgment of her husband) that eventually they ran out of money, and had to give a check. When league members making the sales, saw the comfortable bank balance indicated by the husband's pass book, there was no hesitancy in honoring his check.

Appreciate Help

Members are highly appreciative of the co-operation shown them in plans for the sale, not only by the city's housewives, but by merchants and business men. Merchants have donated many garments from store stocks, they have given furniture, loaned display racks, provided carpenter's horses and long boards for tables, and even arranged for trucks in which to convey donations to the scene of the sale.

Mrs. Howard Timmons was in charge of today's opening sale and her corps of assistants included Mesdames Herbert Miller, George S. Briggs, Edward Hall, Hugh Lowe, R. C. Hoiles, H. T. Dunning and Irwin F. Landis. Another group will be in charge tomorrow with a third division to preside Saturday, the closing day.

In addition to Maurice Phillips, she is survived by four other sons and a daughter. Other surviving sons are: Ernest and George Phillips, North Adams, Mass., John Phillips, Long Beach and Will Phillips, Huntington Beach. The surviving daughter is Mrs. James Bramley also of Santa Ana.

DR. MASON WARNS AGAINST CONFLICT

Dr. John Brown Mason, professor of history and government and head of the department of social sciences at the Colorado Woman's College, addressed the weekly meeting of the Federal Forums in Memorial Hall, Huntington Beach, last evening. He talked on "Can America Stay Neutral?"

Reviewing the succession of events that finally plunged us into the World war such as our war trade, loans and credits—economic factors of war—violation of our neutrality rights and chiefly, in the minds of many present, the skillful dissemination of propaganda, Dr. Mason warned that propaganda would again prove an even more dangerous factor in embroiling us in another European conflict if the Spanish civil war should involve the major European powers.

He pointed out that the spread of propaganda would be facilitated through the radio, proving a powerful instrument in changing the sentiment of the people in less than twenty-four hours.

The auditions will be free and the date for presenting the first program will be announced later.

Gum-Shoe Fiend For Flowers Is Offender Here

If not the world's, then Santa Ana's "meanest thief," with a flare for flowers, "soff-shoed" into Birch Park last night and stole six dozen daffodils and a half bed of tulips, consisting of two dozen flowers, which Dale Griggs, park superintendent and his men had worked to make beautiful, for a period of several months.

Police, cooperating with the park department today, warned that anyone caught stealing flowers from the parks of Santa Ana, would be prosecuted at once.

"We have worked on these particular flowers for several months and have been complimented upon their beauty frequently during the past week or so," Griggs said. "We appreciate the compliments on our efforts but not the thefts. The beauties of our parks should be left to be enjoyed by all."

The thief cut the flowers off, leaving the roots, but there will be no more blooms this year, Griggs pointed out.

BEACH COUNCIL RAPS WILKIE'S PATROL PLANS

At last night's regular meeting of the Laguna Beach City council, states of emergency were declared to exist, concerning sewers, auto-trailers, and Captain Don Wilkie, whose notice, served at last meeting, that he would proceed with mobilization of his corps of private watchmen, permit or no permit, stirred the council into speedy action. An ordinance, fashioned after the Santa Ana measure, which in turn is based upon one passed in San Jose, was given first and second readings. The local ordinance lays down drastic terms, non-compliance with which incurs penalties of $300.00 fine, 90 days in jail or both, governing the operations of private patrol systems.

Must Post Bond
After defining the term "patrol system," the ordinance requires posting a bond in the amount of $1,000.00 with the application for permit; references; payment of $15.00 annual business license fee; and, if motor vehicles are used in the work of patrol, insurance coverage for personal property and public liability, in the amount of $10,000.00. From then on, the terms of the measure become really "tough"; pictures, finger-prints, and case history of each private watchman employed, must be filed with the Chief of Police, whose scrutiny and subsequent OK are essential. Provision for suspension, revocation, or revision of permits granted, after a hearing, are contained in the ordinance, which, following action at next meeting, a fortnight hence, will become effective at once.

Pass Trailer Ordinance
Under another emergency clause ruling an ordinance regulating camp trailers was passed to third reading. The ordinance sets forth the various requirements which must be observed in the conduct of auto-trailer camps and parks, several of which are already in operation in and near Laguna Beach. The ordinance prescribes space to be allotted to each trailer outfit; distances between spaces; sanitary regulations, including water supply; taboos dogs at large in camps; and comprehensively covers every phase—so far—of the growing trailer movement, insofar as Laguna Beach is concerned.

U. S. Senator Hitchcock says: "Luckies please both my taste and my throat"

"For close to fifty years I have been a regular smoker, so I think I know what constitutes a good cigarette. Luckies please me on two scores. I like their fine flavor. But even more important is the fact that they are a light smoke, easy on my throat. At any rate, it's results that count, and a light smoke pleases both my taste and my throat."

Herbert E. Hitchcock

HON. HERBERT E. HITCHCOCK
U. S. SENATOR FROM SOUTH DAKOTA

THE FINEST TOBACCO—
"THE CREAM OF THE CROP"

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Senator Hitchcock's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

SUFFERERS! SCIENTIFIC MEDICINE RELIEVES NASAL CONGESTION, HEAD COLDS, STOPS SNEEZING AND DISCOMFORT IN HAY FEVER, RELIEVES NASAL CATARRH, SINUS TROUBLE, SIMPLE BRONCHIAL ASTHMA

If you suffer with any of the above complaints you can have a liberal introductory bottle of a medicine with applicator which has helped many others for 25 cents. All you have to do is read the offer which follows. You owe this to yourself.

This scientific medicine, known as Aratone has helped practically every person who has taken it. That is why we offer this trial bottle with applicator for 25c cents, because we feel that if a person is helped they will keep on using it. The regular price of Aratone is $1. $1.75 and $3.

Aratone is a medicine composed of eleven ingredients. It does not contain any habit forming drugs. You can use it in a medicine dropper, an atomizer, or pour a little in your hand and snuffle it into your nose. Above all things you do not have to wait a day or an hour or two minutes to feel Aratone getting to work. Within one minute after it has entered your nasal passages you will feel it beginning to clear and open up the breathing organs. It does not do this harshly but in a soothing, cleansing way. The medicine will not irritate. Positively not. It is harmless. Where you have a bad Cold, Nasal Catarrh, Sinus Trouble, Simple Bronchial Asthma, or Nasal Congestion, it will start a flow of mucus that will relieve you almost immediately. In Hay Fever it will relieve that sneezing, stuffed-up condition. Where you have a cough due to a mean cold just spray or gargle Aratone and notice that quick relief. We claim to have no cure-all but Aratone has proven its value in helping so many people that the least you can do is to take advantage of this liberal offer and try it. You owe this to yourself. And this offer is good, remember, Friday and Saturday only, so read the rest of this announcement and act at once.

What Aratone Does

It will aid in stopping the poisons which are in the nose from being carried into the rest of the body. That dripping and dropping of mucus into the stomach which causes loss of appetite, skin eruptions, acid stomach, indigestion, and a general run-down feeling will be done away with. You know only too well if you suffer with Nasal Congestion, Catarrh, Hay Fever, Asthma, Colds or Coughs due to colds how miserable you feel. Also you know how offensive bad breath caused by nasal trouble is and how nervous and irritable you are. Aratone is alkaline. It relieves acidity, will flush out so many impurities in your nasal passages, you will wonder how you could have breathed at all. Those morning headaches will disappear, sneezing will stop, you'll have a good night's sleep, and above all you will get a breath of real fresh air. And that will allow Nature to do its work, for you will have strength to throw off attacks of these nasal troubles. Aratone gets into those inflamed and swollen nasal passages and fights the congestion the moment it enters the nose. To get your bottle of Aratone for 25 CENTS (Friday and Saturday only) bring this coupon to SONTAGS. You owe this to yourself.

Coupon and only 25 cents is good for one introductory bottle of ARATONE Nasal Medicine (with applicator)

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, April 1. — Settin' Around (Universal): Head mogul Charles Rogers is a man after my own heart. When he assumed charge of this studio about one year ago, he announced that he would produce pictures filled with light entertainment. "The country has been through a depressing, discouraging period," he said. "People want to forget their troubles, and bright pictures will clean up at box offices."

Observing this "let us be gay" policy, the studio promptly turned out "My Man Godfrey," "Show Boat," "Three Smart Girls," and more recently "Top of the Town." All Universal pictures to date have had happy endings. If a happy ending is implausible, Rogers simply will not oken the story.

I found "The Cop" set in a state of uproar. It seemed that Nan Grey (a real comer if there ever was one) had a new Scottie pup, and it was creating minor havoc by rushing around pulling at curtains and draperies, nipping ankles, and cavorting in general. Moreover, it skillfully eluded capture. "What's your dog's name?" I yelled over the uproar. "Happy Landings," Nan shouted back. At which point the director, upset by the delay, yapped, "If you don't get him out of here, he'll be making a landing about two blocks away, but I don't think it will be happy!"

The "Oh, Doctor" set was a tea garden. Dozens of girls-you-dream-about were dressed in gay summer clothes or stretched at the edge of a swimming pool in devastating bathing suits (not a man on the set was wearing dark glasses!). Everyone seemed happy except big William Hall, the leading man. Bill's gripe was funny. Preparing for this sequence in which he was to wear a bathing suit, he had spent three days acquiring a tan. But the big silly did his sun bathing in slacks, so while his arms and back were a beautiful nut-brown, his legs were pale by comparison. Consequently he was undergoing the discomfort of wearing a tan makeup on his legs and thighs so they would match other visible parts of his body.

On the same set, Edward Everett Horton was worrying as usual, this time about the picture. A pessimist by nature (most screen and stage comedians are), he shook his head when I asked about the picture's progress. "It won't be good," he groaned, "It won't be good. We look at the rushes every afternoon, and everybody rolls in the aisles. I'm superstitious—it won't be a good picture!"

William Gargan was playing tick-tack-toe with Wendy Barrie and everybody was sitting around idle on the "Wings Over Honolulu" set. I asked if this was a sit-down strike. "We're waiting for Ray Milland," was the assistant director's explanation. "We put in a hurry call for him, but it'll take him half an hour to get here." Just then Milland walked on the set. "How'd you get here so soon?" cried the assistant. "Just a lucky break," Ray cracked. "I had all the red lights with me!"

AVOCADO COST
SURVEY FIGURES ARE ANNOUNCED

A seven-year avocado cost analysis was completed today by the Agricultural Extension Service in co-operation with 20 representative growers to provide a practical and authentic basis to determine production and overhead.

This survey is part of a ten-year study which was begun in 1930, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, who is in charge of the study.

During the seven year period already completed the average yield in bearing acreage reporting was 2731 pounds an acre, while the highest yield was 6110 pounds an acre in 1935, the big crop year. The lowest yield was in 1930 with only 846 pounds an acre.

Comparative Costs
Labor costs were highest in 1931 when $100 an acre was required, while the lowest cost was in 1936 when labor costs were $41.74 an acre.

Material costs were highest in 1931 when it required $92.58 an acre for water, fertilizer and other materials, as compared to the $45.29 an acre in 1936.

The highest average return was $534 per acre as received in 1931 and the lowest in 1933 when the average was $157 per acre, while the average return for the seven years period was $276 per acre or 10.12 cents per pound.

Major Problems
So far the survey shows 1936 as the lowest cost of production, labor, materials, cash overhead and total costs. Additional studies are conducted in three groups, young, profitable and unprofitable orchards.

The major problems confronting growers, as shown in the production and cost analysis, is the alternate bearing habit of the avocado. Some orchards show a tendency toward more uniform production yearly.

A successful avocado orchard official said, meets the following requirements: (1) Good deep fertile soil, (2) Good water supply, (3) Favorable climatic conditions, or protection against frost and wind, (4) Vigorous and productive trees of marketable varieties, (5) An efficient operator.

Bradley, third district; Martell Thompson, fourth district and George E. Thompson, fifth district.

The meeting next Tuesday will be held at Mueller's cafe in Riverside. CALLING all DOGS
By Albert Payson TerhuneWHY WON'T HE EAT IT?

A young raccoon, plump and perfectly cooked, was our meat course at Sunnyside one day. As always, Sunnybank Gray Dawn lay at my feet, under the table. Dawn loved meat. I tossed a morsel of raccoon to him. Eagerly he caught it in mid-air. An instant later he dropped it as if it had been a lump of red pepper. So I tried an experiment. I took slices of the raccoon around through the kennels. The dogs were hungry. All of them, in turn, grabbed the pieces of meat. And all of them dropped the meat as suddenly and as disgustedly as had Dawn. Not one of them would eat any of it. (It was the same with the 'able cats when I offered it to them.)

Yet the taste was not rank or sharp. It was like a blend of chicken and fresh pork. Why did my dogs reject it? I didn't know. But I made wholesale inquiries among hunters and other dogmen. I was told by all of them, ex-

SCENE IN DRAMA OF M. W. D. AQUEDUCT

With Leo Carrillo enacting the role of an Early Californian and Sam Flint in the role of the first of the Yankee settlers, a dramatic motion picture of the M. W. D. aqueduct that will deliver water to Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, will have a free preview Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Santa Ana High school. The public is invited.

"EMPIRE OF THE WEST" WILL BE PRESENTED HERE TONIGHT

Through the three Orange County directors on the board of the Metropolitan Water District, an invitation was extended today to residents of Orange County to attend a free public preview of "Empire of the West" at 8 p. m. tonight in the auditorium of the Santa Ana High school.

Just released by the M.W.D., the new motion picture already is exciting widespread comment and interest. In addition to its dramatic presentation of the building of the giant Metropolitan aqueduct, the picture sets forth the historical background of Southern California's long battle to defeat the menace of drought.

Leo Carrillo, noted star of stage and screen, appears in the film in the role of a colorful early Californian.

The three M.W.D. directors who have arranged the special preview that is to be open to the public without charge are Col. S. H. Finley of Santa Ana, E. P. Haggood of Anaheim, and Walter Humphreys of Fullerton. Hard-rock miners from an aqueduct tunnel will assist in presenting the program, it has been announced.

"VICIOUS DOG" SIGN ERRS
PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—A "vicious dog" sign turned out to be rather tame when federal agents of the alcohol tax unit arrested a man and seized a still. Agents ignored the "vicious dog" sign, the dog ignored the agents, and arrested the man, who disgustedly kicked the sign down on his way to jail.

The single exception was a trapper who said a hound of his father's would eat all three. The hound, he said, was looked on as a freak. What's the answer? I don't know.

Plans for Santa Ana's first annual air show, to be presented under auspices of the aviation section of the Young Business Men's division of the chamber of commerce will be outlined when members of the section meet at 4 p. m. tomorrow in the chamber of commerce.

At that time Dale Deckert, chairman of the section will file the list of airplane manufacturers who have already reserved space for showing their latest model ships during the one-day exposition.

Practically every airplane manufacturer on the Pacific coast and several from eastern centers who were showing airplanes at the Pan-Pacific air show in Los Angeles recently have agreed to have one or more late type ships at the Eddie Martin airport for the show, to be held there Sunday, June 6.

In addition to showing their airplanes many of the manufacturers have arranged to give demonstration flights and exhibitions. Army, navy and marine corps pilots also will participate, providing an aerial show during the afternoon.

All government licensed pilots have been invited to attend the show and will be guests of the committee at a barbecue dinner to be served at the flying field at noon.

BEULAH PARKER SONG APPEARS

Santa Anans who have accorded such warm praise to Miss Beulah Parker's song, "Life," the music of which she wrote to a poem by Anna Barbauld, were interested today in learning that the selection in published form will be available in this city starting today.

Accepted and published by Wesley Webster Publishing company of San Bruno, Calif., "Life" in sheet music form will be for sale at Foster-Barker Music company. Both Milton Foster and Miss Parker are members of Santa Ana Musical Arts club. It is before that group as well as other local audiences that the newly-published song has been sung by Miss Parker, Russell Crouse and other local musicians from time to time.

Distinctly western in theme, another of Miss Parker's compositions, "Ride Cowboy Ride" has been accepted for publication by M. M. Cole Publishing company. It was learned today. Both words and music of this number are the work of Miss Parker. "Ride Cowboy Ride" also has won favor with Santa Ana audiences before whom it has been "premiered."

Showing versatility in her musical creations, Miss Parker now is completing words and music of a hymn which she plans to submit to publishers in the near future.

Miss Parker, teacher of voice and piano, has her studio at 1119 North Main street.

Symphony
Will Play
April 16

Rehearsals of the Federal Music Project Symphony orchestra are under way preparatory to the all Tchaikovsky program to be presented the night of April 16. The program will be staged in the high school auditorium.

Leon Eckles, director of the Federal Music Project, will conduct the orchestra and Earl Fraser, well-known Santa Ana pianist and composer will assist with the presentation. Fraser will be featured as guest soloist.

The orchestra will open the concert with the Sixth Symphony, Pathétique, one of Tchaikovsky's most exquisite and melodic compositions. There is an undertone of agitation in this number that places it as a dramatic, rather than symphonic, composition.

Fraser will play the Concert in B-flat Minor, with an orchestral accompaniment.

The program will be closed with the orchestra playing the Nut Cracker Suite, a group of eight selections, written for a ballet. They are really a group of fairy tales and deal with a Christmas evening festivity in the home of a little girl, who receives a wonderful array of toys and presents, among them an ordinary motorcar.

This suite runs the gamut of emotions ranging from the joy of Christmas to the sadness of a little girl who has suffered a loss and back to the ecstasy of a child when her broken toy is transformed into a fairy prince.

SANTA ANAN IS RETIRED BY U. S.

Captain Isaac J. Williams, native of Santa Ana, who has been an officer in the army air corps since 1920, is to be retired for disability, the war department announced today in Washington, D. C.

Captain Williams, now stationed at Governors Island, New York, is to be relieved of duty on March 31, war department orders provide. Nature of his disability was not disclosed, as the department considers findings of its retirement board as strictly confidential.

Born in Santa Ana on May 27, 1888, Captain Williams joined the Army at the entrance of the United States into the World War, as a private in the aviation section of the signal corps. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the signal corps, aviation section, in March 1918, and served throughout the war in that grade. In July, 1920, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the air corps, was promoted to first lieutenant in July of the same year, and in October, 1931, was made a captain.

He is a graduate of air service communications school, and is rated air pilot air observer.

Darius Wilson founded the Royal Aracum, a fraternal society, in Boston in 1877.

IN LOVE AGAIN

A tumble across the foot-lights into a bssdrum when she was making her Broadway debut started Dorothy McNulty, dancing comedienne, on the way to stardom and Hollywood. In the film capital she tumbled again—into love with Dr. Lawrence Scroggs, her engagement to whom has been announced. Miss McNulty is a niece of Postmaster General Farley.

LX
A clever hunter, bold and frank,
Lined up a pack of dogs,
And placed them in a solemn row
Upon some oaken logs.

He started in to train them right,
So they'd be local hounds,
And learn just how to catch the bears
That looked within their bounds.

He trained them well to hunt for bears,
And also lie in wait,
Like crafty spiders in their webs,
Terrible and sedate.

SAN CLEMENTE
CCC DIVISION TO HAVE FETE

The San Clemente CCC camp will hold "open house" in observance of the fourth anniversary of the Civilian Conservation Corps, Sunday, officials announced today. The public is cordially invited to visit the camp and inspect work projects underway and completed in the state park.

CCC Company 912, organized in the early fall of 1933, has been located in the park since October, 1936, carrying on numerous projects for the general development of the area. These activities are under general direction of the National Park Service in close cooperation with the California Division of Parks, utilizing Emergency Conservation Work funds.

Partly Donated
San Clemente state park and Do-heny state park, seven miles north of the camp and upon which work is also being done, came into existence in 1931, having been acquired partly by donation and partly by purchase of lands by the California State Park Commission. San Clemente state park has an area of 100 acres which includes 6000 feet of ocean frontage. Do-heny Beach state park has an area of 41 acres and includes 2500 feet of ocean frontage. The upland area of the two parks is rolling grassland country typical of the long stretches of land along the ocean bluffs in Southern California. The two parks are bounded on the east by U. S. Highway 101.

Technicians Plan
Plans for the development of the parks were prepared by technicians of the California Division of Parks and the National Park Service. Following these plans, roads have been built, banks sloped and trees planted. A boundary fence of old mission design has been built, along the highway, of adobe bricks made by the enrollees from the native soil, and later stuccoed for protection from the weather. Comfort stations, and a custodian's cottage were erected at both parks, as well as picnic shelters, tables, benches and fireplaces.

The camp life of the enrollees is under the direction of the United States army. The camp commander is Capt. George R. Battle. Project Superintendent E. F. Carlander and the foremen who work with him have charge of the enrollees while they are at work in the park.

The first American-built ship to cross the Atlantic was a pinnae, built by a band of Huguenots at Port Royal in 1562. In it they returned to France.

Congress passed the first corporation tax in America in 1909. The law taxed all corporations over $5000 and was passed before the income tax amendment.

And also lie in wait,
Like crafty spiders in their webs,
Terrible and sedate.
But when they actually saw a bear,
The dogs became quite frantic,
Laying down their heads to quit
A job they thought gigantic.

Pretty Affair Presented In Charming Home

One of the most hospitable homes in the city, that of Mr. and Mrs. Theo A. Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street, was the scene of a charming affair for a group of friends asked to lunch and play contract as guests of Mrs. Winbiger and her son's wife, Mrs. Ernest Winbiger.

Luncheon was served in the dining room, where one long table was augmented by several arranged for groups of four. Linens and flowers were of the loveliest, with the keynote set by the main table with its handsome Italian linen and lace banquet cloth, and its triple Dresden bowls of flowers, ranunculus and lilac blooms, Ranunculus, stocks and other blossoms were blended.

In the adjoining rooms where bridge tables were placed, were quantities of other flowers, including St. John lilies on the mantel, and a low bowl of pink carnations sent by Mrs. John Wehrly. Mrs. Wehrly lent her aid in checking arrivals, and Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns assisted throughout the afternoon.

Attractively framed etchings were awarded as prizes to Mrs. J. B. Roberts and Mrs. Harvey Spears, with a smaller picture in silhouette to Mrs. Lewis P. Moulton. Since today chances to be Mrs. Roberts' birthday anniversary, it seemed very appropriate that she should receive first prize. Quite as interesting was Mrs. Winbiger's gift of a graceful compass to Mrs. A. J. Lasby, for yesterday was Mr. and Mrs. Lasby's wedding anniversary.

Following yesterday's hospitality of the two hostesses will be a similar bridge luncheon of Friday when Mrs. Theo A. Winbiger will receive. Yesterday's guest list included with the two assistants, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Wehrly, Mesdames J. B. Roberts, J. S. Smart, Robert Mize, Harvey Spears, George S. Briggs, Don Andrews, J. E. Paul, Cassius Paul, John Lucien Wehrly, F. F. Burke, Charles V. Doty, Mark Lacy, Hugh Shields, John Backus, Loyal K. King, A. J. Lasby, Howard Rapp, J. E. Liebig, John A. Tessmann, Cotton Mather, Lewis P. Moulton, R. H. Sharpless, C. P. Boyer, Hyatt V. Curry, Arthur Lyon, Henry Timmons, Adam Zaiser, Harry Westover, Emmet Elliott and Dr. Mary Wright.

Tomorrow Night Brings Spring Dance at Country Club

Santa Ana Country club members will assemble tomorrow night at the clubhouse for a spring party which the group has been anticipating for some time. Originally scheduled for late March, the affair was set ahead to April 2, and various interesting plans are underway for tomorrow night's party.

Lacy Swaine's orchestra will provide music for the occasion. Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fernandez and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Collier.

It is expected that a representative group of members and their guests will be present for the dance, which will begin at 9:30 o'clock. Tickets for both club members and their guests, according to Mrs. Ward Akeley, hostess at the clubhouse.

Dinner Hosts Extend Courtesy To Betrothed Couple

Gardenias, other flowers and tapers in bridal white contributed to the charming setting which Mrs. Clarence Ranney had arranged at Danagers last night for a dinner party complimenting Miss Marcia Huber and Kenneth Price.

Dr. and Mrs. Ranney welcomed an intimate little group of friends to the affair. Gardenias were favored for each of the feminine guests. Places at the beautifully appointed table were marked for Miss Huber and Mr. Price, the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Ranney; Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Norton and Wylie Carlyle, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Manley Natland, Long Beach; George Huntington, Pasadena.

The group repaired to the Ranney home, 2456 Heliotrope Drive, for the remainder of the evening.

Dr. Ranney will be best man at the marriage of Miss Huber and Mr. Price Saturday.

Gaiety Prevails When Tri-Y Girls Stage Unique Party

Had there been some casual drop-ins in at Y.W.C.A. rooms Monday night they might have been just a wee bit confused about the time of year, so incongruous with rhyme, reason or season were decorations prominently displayed.

There could have been just one answer to the question: "What is going on?" Reply: "A mad March hare party." Weaving the very amusing and clever costumes concocted for the occasion were Tri-Y Girl Reserves, 70 of whom assembled for one of the merriest affairs ever shared by the group.

Christmas, St. Valentine's day, St. Patrick's day and Halloween inspired members of the decorating committee to deck the rooms in festive manner. Costumes were equally varied, and were exhibited to best advantage during a grand march. To Miss Harriet Spicer and Miss Anna Margaret Bell was awarded the prize for the most cleverly attired couple. They had chosen "backwards" costumes. Miss Muriel Walker, attired as an old lady, also won a prize.

Miss Willena Bell played the piano for a session of games and for dancing. A skit, "Little Adelaide," was presented by Miss Mary Porter, Miss Bonnie Kiser, Miss Margaret Pine, Miss Mary Schofield and Mrs. Carmen Hunt.

Committees arranging the party were the Misses Jackie Morrison, Grace Cook, Barbara Rowell, Dorothy Parker, Ella Barnes, Rita Geary, Helen Hicks, Nadine Taylor and Phyllis Krook.

Club Elects Officers For 21st Year

Launching on its 21st year of meeting, a little bridge club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bess McDonald, 1208 South Ross street, for a special dinner meeting and election of officers. Mrs. Nellie West was elected president, to be assisted during the year by Mrs. Maude Swarthout, vice president; Mrs. Mamie McDonnell, secretary; Mrs. Mary Jarrett, treasurer; and Mrs. Lulu Hall, public relations.

Table for dinner was centered with bouquets of yellow and orange gardenias, and on the buffet was a fragrant madonna lily. Prizes for bridge play were awarded Mrs. Bessie Moore, high; Mrs. Bess McDonald, second; and Mrs. Mary Jarrett, low. Other members present besides the hostess, Mrs. McDonald, were Mesdames Lulu Hall, Nellie West, Bess Moore, Mary Jarrett, Mamie McDonnell, Maude Swarthout and George Mills.

The next meeting will be April 15 in the home of Mrs. Nellie West, 220 East Edinger road.

OFFER DINNER MUSIC

Edward Burns, Willard Bassett and Miss Ruth Armstrong attended a formal dinner party given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Robert Ross at Newport Harbor Yacht club complementing Mr. Ross on his 62nd birthday anniversary.

Between courses of the dinner, Mr. Burns played cello solos, and Mr. Bassett, tenor, sang several solos with Miss Armstrong accompanying them. After dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Ross showed reels of colored film taken on their recent round the world trip.

The young people were wedded in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Madison, Kingman, Ariz., with the Rev. John Wesley Grande of Kingman Methodist church, reading the service.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Walker were present to see for themselves the surprise occasioned by the telegrams, one of which they had arranged to be sent to Mr. Walker's brother, William Walker, and the other of which was from a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Keller of Monterey Park, who were aware of party plans.

Announcing international goodwill as the theme of the afternoon, the choral group's director, Dudley Page Harper has commented that it seems especially appropriate for the Y. Club Speaker Will Talk On Soviet Russia Opportunity to hear Maurice Hindus discuss his latest observations of the vast changes that are taking place in his native land of Russia will be given Ebbl society members Monday afternoon when they assemble for a program at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse.

Author of important books on Russia, world traveler and brilliant speaker, Mr. Hindus recently returned from his annual trip to Russia, which he has visited 12 times since the Revolution. He spends each summer and autumn in Russia, renewing his contacts and noting for himself the progress of that country's socialist experiment. Having known Russia in the days of the Czar, he is able to contrast the present changes and to picture to his audience the Russian people living through these exciting times.

Hindus, who is said to be the best informed American citizen on the Russian situation, has written several books on the subject. His first book, "The Russian Peasant and the Revolution" was published in 1920 and was followed in 1926 by "Broken Earth." Then came his "Humanity Unrooted," which was published in the United States and in England in 1929. "Red Bread," published in 1931 and "The Great Offensive" in which he brought up-to-date his epochal narratives of Russia's great experiment, published in 1933. His sixth book, a novel, "Moscow Skies" was published in the fall of 1936.

Although born in Russia, Mr. Hindus came to this country when he was but 14 years old, and holds degrees from Colgate University and Harvard University. Following his sixth appearance at Town Hall, New York, George Benny Jr., associate director, said "Mr. Hindus remains the fearless interpreter of that enigmatic nation."

Ebbl society members are asked to note that the program will be given next Monday as a special feature, with Mrs. Valley to give the following program Monday April 12.

Character Actress to Give Program For Junior Ebell

Maude Fealy and her priceless character interpretations will form the program for Junior Ebell society's April meeting, anticipated as an event of special interest next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the clubhouse.

Many guests are expected to attend the affair, since reciprocity night will be observed. Junior club workers from neighboring cities are invited to share the event.

During her program, Miss Fealy will give interpretations of such historical figures as Ann of Cleve, Marie Antoinette and Catherine the Great. Famous people Miss Fealy has met also will be characterized.

SOUTHLAND GUESTS

Departure of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stevens and their young daughter, Miss Betty Jeanne for their home in Bakersfield, brought to a conclusion a round of gay affairs during their Easter vacation visit here in their former home.

They were guests of Mrs. Stevens' mother and sister, Mrs. Ethel J. Hutchison and Miss Opal Brownlow, who occupy the Stevens home at 1309 Maple street since the family went to Bakersfield. There were various gay little dinner parties during the past week, for several of which the family group was joined by Mrs. Ella Faupel and her young daughter, Doris Lorraine, a great friend of Betty Jeanne's.

Mrs. Hutchison's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Turk of Covina, arrived to spend the Easter week-end, and on Easter Sunday morning, Mrs. Hutchison and Miss Brownlow planned a special breakfast event, at which guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Miss Betty Jeanne, Mr. and Mrs. Turk and Willard E. Brown.

PONOCHE CLUB MEETS

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Berge were hosts to their pinocle club at 2033 Oak street. Jack Weidmeyer received first prize for men, and Mrs. Elmer Ellington for women. Sandwiches, coffee and relishes were served after prizes were awarded.

Present besides the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames Ernest Kistort, George Randall of this city; Jack Weidmeyer, Fullerton; Clarence Eldridge, Laguna Beach; and Elmer Ellington, Costa Mesa. Mr. and Mrs. Kastorf will receive the group on April 14 in their home at 1004 North Parton street.

You and Your Friends

Captain and Mrs. James Simpson and sons, Bartlett and Howard of Fort Douglas, Ky., were to leave today for San Francisco after a several days' visit with Captain Simpson's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Simpson and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, 1406 Bush street. After visiting with relatives in the Bay City, the family will sail April 9 for the Philippines, where Captain Simpson will be stationed for two years with the U. S. army.

Mrs. Lena Hewitt, 1702 Spurgeon street, took her houseguest, Mrs. Mary Finch, formerly of the city but now of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Mrs. R. G. Hewitt and Mrs. Esther Gardner to Palm Springs yesterday to view the desert flowers which are so lovely at this time of year. It was Mrs. Finch's first visit to the desert resort.

Mrs. Beren Baker, 435 South Birch street, is recuperating from a cold. She has been ill for several days.

This is a colorful salad and a very good one. You might like to serve it for suppers or small party luncheons. It's not exactly a dinner salad. It is too hearty for that. Friday: Fish casserole, and a pie someone called Oh-So Good Pie.

If I weren't minding the curves this spring, I'd be tempted to make this pie and eat more than my share of it, but those curves—!

And, speaking of curves, a knowledge of the caloric value of the foods you eat, is a great help in getting rid of said curves. You may have this by sending me a good recipe or household hint and the usual stamped and addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Apple Sauce Cake
1 cup white sugar
2 cups sour applesauce
Sifted flour, 3 cups
1-3 cup butter
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup raisins, cooked until tender
2 level teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground cloves
3 tablespoons ground chocolate or cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter and ground chocolate together. Mix and sift all dry ingredients, twice. Combine sugar with apple sauce, add butter-chocolate mixture, whip well, and gradually whip in dry ingredients, reserving a little to dredge the nuts and drained raisins. Add vanilla and bake 1 hour in a 325 degree oven, pan lined with buttered paper. I agree with the contributor when she says that this is really an exceptional cake, and that all who try it will be well pleased.

2-3 cup, each, diced celery and shredded string beans (cut lengthwise)
4 to 6 tablespoons horseradish

Lettuce for garnishing, or water cress.

Hollow out the beets to make cups. Combine the vegetables at serving time with horseradish, then with enough mayonnaise to make

NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

YOUTH USES ODD MEANS FOR TRIP

ORANGE, April 1.—A bike is better as a means of getting to Los Angeles than a hike, even if it's an Ingo bike, says Chauncey Huscroft, 15-year-old youth of this city, who returned this week from a 40-mile trip west of that city on the sort of bicycle which brings to mind leaping kangaroos on an Australian plain.

Anyone who has tried this means of locomotion for a block or two can testify as to its strenuous character and knows that the rider finds he has unsuspected muscles in his arms and legs which resent being brought into use.

Imagine then a ride of 40 miles and back again, up and down through the traffic of heavily traveled roads. Young Huscroft, however, found that the trip occasioned no loss of flesh but rather that he had gained two pounds when he was weighed on his return home.

Going at a time when the weather was unsettled at the latter part of the week and returning the first of this week, Chauncey struck three hailstorms on the way up. He made the trip in four and a half hours and was stopped by numbers of curious persons who had never seen a similar bicycle. He ran into snow along the San Gabriel highway and he stopped for brief rest periods four times, once in each hour.

The Orange youth made the trip to visit his sister, Mrs. James Krueger (Martha Huscroft) who lives near El Monte and who, needless to say, was more than surprised to see him coming by the unusual means of conveyance he had chosen.

VILLA PARK

Virginia Adams and George Adams of Villa Park, Leland Reeler of Long Beach, and Dorothy Page of Santa Ana spent a day recently in the snow at Big Pine. They returned home through Elsinore, over the Ortega highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snyder and Mrs. George Nichols of San Pedro, visited Mrs. William Varcoe Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danbacher of Long Beach were Easter guests in the Cecil Berriman home.

Miss Ruth Newman of Los Angeles, was house-guest last week in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Annie Caldwell of Lincoln avenue.

Easter guests of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bell and family were Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gilbert, of San Dimas.

Virginia Collins, a student at U. C. L. A., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collins. She returned to school Sunday night.

ORANGE TWENTY-THIRTIANS HEAR TALK ON BOYS' WORK

ORANGE, April 1.—J. B. Wilbur, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was the speaker at a meeting of the 20-30 club at the Sunshine Broller last night taking as his topic that of "The Worth of a Boy" and stressing the definite need of leadership in boys work in this city.

At least 12 more boys groups could be secured, Wilbur declared.

Boys work at the Orange "Y" begins at the age of nine and continues up to college age, said Wilbur. The Friendly Indian group includes boys from nine to 12 years of age, the Pioneer groups boys from 12 to 14 years; Comrades, high school freshmen and sophomores; Hi-Y groups, high school juniors and seniors, while the Young Men's Division includes those of college age and up, it was stated.

"There is no time in a boy's life when he can be left to shift for himself," declared Wilbur. "and this is the reason for the progressive program arranged by the 'Y' for boys of communities, so that there is no period without supervision." Ralph Shannon was program chairman and Thomas Towns presided.

Book Club Hears Review Of Books About Russia

ORANGE, April 1.—Reviewing "I Visit the Soviets," by E. M. Delafield and "South to Samarkand" by Ethel Mannin, and telling of the parallel lines on which the books are written, yet of their wide differences, Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, leader of the Book club and public librarian, gave a talk of unusual interest at the meeting of the club yesterday in her home on North Center street.

"I Visit the Soviets," has another title, said the club leader and it is "The Provincial Lady Looks at Russia." The volume is beautifully written, with gay touches of humor and the story of life in present day Russia is so handled that even the Russians could find nothing to object to in the book, said the speaker.

"South to Samarkand," is purely a travel book with parts that are poetically beautiful yet with a sharpness of comment not found in the other book written of similar conditions in the same country, Mrs. Faulkner brought out.

Mrs. Faulkner touched briefly on a number of other late volumes, "Of Mice and Men," written by Steinbeck, a story of two tramps, transient farm workers, with a number of the scenes laid near Salinas, California; "Heads and Tails," by Malvina Hoffman and "As I Remember," by Arnold Genthe.

Previous to the reviews members of the group spent an enjoyable hour in discussing books recently read which included "How to Win Friends and to Win People," "How to Streamline Your Mind," "Why Lincoln Was Assassinated," "Green Light," "Adventures in Friendship," "Adventures in Contentment," "Fighting Angel," "Getting Help From Religion," "There's Always Tomorrow," "The Sound of Running Feet," "The Busman's Holiday," "Nine Tailors," "This England," "I Am the Fox" and others.

Park Lecturer Scheduled As Club Speaker

ORANGE, April 1.—Sponsored by the Garden section of the Orange Woman's club the program to be given Monday at 3 p. m. at the clubhouse is expected to be of unusual interest. Herbert Wilson, lecturer of Sequoia National park and also of the Yosemite National park will be the speaker, taking as his subject, "The Giant's Last Stand." Mr. Wilson has been closely associated with the parks for the past 18 years.

Mrs. Perry Groat is president of the Garden section. The program will precede by a month's time the Flower show to be given by all sections of the club on May 6 and 7. In addition to the talk two piano solos are to be given by Mrs. Joy Elder and tea will be served in the lobby with Mrs. Earl Crawford, Mrs. Perry Groat, Mrs. Donald Smiley and Mrs. A. H. Halleck as hostesses.

The speaker is the author of two books, "The Lore and Lure of Sequoia" and "The Lore and Lure of Yosemite." He will tell the Sequoia from the life story of the Sequoia Indians for whom the giant trees were named and of the history of the tree.

KENYONS HOSTS

ORANGE, April 1.—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kenyon entertained with an Easter breakfast recently in the lovely arbor of their ranch home near Anaheim. Appointments were attractive and stressed a seasonal motif. Present other than the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson of Anaheim; Herbert Carroll of San Diego, Mrs. Sabra Batchelor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Batchelor, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bomboy, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engleheart, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hamill, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kern and Mrs. Blanche Runbeck.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED BY P.T.A.

ORANGE, April 1.—The regular March meeting of the Center Street P.T.A., which was postponed on account of the illness of one of the class teachers, will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Mrs. Arthur T. Hobson, president of the organization, will conduct the meeting at which time election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. The regular routine business will be transacted following the election.

Program chairman, Mrs. G. E. Williams, will present the third grade pupils under the direction of their teacher, Miss Margaret Rabcock, in several unusual numbers. The class orchestra will play several selections; two Japanese dance numbers will be given by members of the class and Japanese songs will be sung by the class.

The speaker of the evening, Miss Leah Fernald of Orange will keep her subject in harmony with the program theme—that of Japan. Miss Fernald, who spent some time in Japan during the past summer months, will have as her topic "Japan." A social hour which is in charge of the kindergarten mothers, will conclude the program.

LEAVE FOR NORTH

ORANGE, April 1.—K. E. Watson, of 244 South Glassell street, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Clyde A. Watson, wife of the assemblyman of the 74th district, left by motor this morning for Sacramento where Mrs. Watson will join her husband after spending Easter at her home here. K. E. He will be accompanied on the return trip by K. V. Wolff, who will visit with his two daughters in Los Angeles, the Misses Eileen and Betty Wolff.

LIONS HEAR PLAY READ AT MEET

ORANGE, April 1.—Miss Luis Walker of the speakers' bureau at Santa Ana, entertained members of the Orange Lions club yesterday with a play, "The Homeland," which she read, the play taking the place of the usual talk. Dr. Clarence Baker was program chairman and W. S. Lentz presided.

The play related the story of the father of a family, born in a foreign land, who established a home and business in America where he became wealthy. His heart yearns for his former home and he wishes to return. Selling his business to a recently arrived relative to America, he makes plans to leave his adopted land but is disillusioned when the cousin tells him of the conditions he will find in the foreign country.

Alvin Drumm announced a speakers' contest for Lions of the county. The winner in county finals will take part on a speaking contest to be sponsored by the fourth district. The Orange contestant will be selected shortly.

Plans for a ladies' night meeting some evening this month were announced by Gordon X. Richmond. Shady Brook was mentioned as a possible setting for the affair. Buhl Wing, Dick Jones and James E. Donegan are other members of the committee. Important events for Lions in the near future include an all day meeting at Pomona on April 28 in preparation for the district conference at Santa Monica, June 16.

BRILLE TEACHER

RHEUMATIC PAINS YIELD TO GLY-CAS

Mr. Zollicoffer Finds New Herbal Remedy Just What He Had Been Needing for Years; Entire System Toned.

"For years before I knew of Gly-Cas, kidney and stomach trouble had allowed my entire system to become clogged with poisons," said Mr. E. A. Zollicoffer, 302 North Georgia Street,

MR. E. A. ZOLLICOFFER

Amarillo, Texas. "Soon rheumatism settled over my body, especially in my right knee. It became so stiff and sore it was almost impossible for me to step up on the sidewalk. Then, too, my arms were so sore I practically lost the use of them. My stomach was in such a miserable condition for after every meal I was sure to suffer dreadfully with severe gas pains and bloating. A good night's sleep was almost out of the question and I seemed to be fast losing hold of my health in general. But a short trial of Gly-Cas soon corrected all of this for me."

"Never have I seen a medicine do its work as well as Gly-Cas," he continued. "I can walk with ease for that dreadful rheumatism has been driven from my body. My stomach and kidneys no longer bother me. I eat what I wish and suffer no ill effects afterwards, sleep good and am really an entirely different man. I feel so well again. And to think, at my age of 78, that a single medicine like Gly-Cas could change my whole outlook on life by giving me back my health."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Store, 166 West Fourth Street, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

REBEL PRINCE WHO FOUNDED A NATION

At diplomatic conferences, the young Prince of Orange rarely spoke. And so he was called William, the Silent.

William was of the House of Nassau, which in the 16th century was under the rule of Spain. Rebellious against foreign domination, in 1560, the fiery prince was condemned, degraded, and forced to seek refuge in Germany. But in 1572, when he was 39, he returned and led a new revolt against Spain. So persistently did he pursue his efforts for Dutch independence that King Philip II of Spain offered a reward for his head. For 12 years he led a guerrilla warfare against Spain's army, and then Philip paid his reward. William, the Silent, was assassinated.

The prince, however, is honored as the founder of the Dutch Republic, for he began what his three sons later successfully completed—the struggle for their country's liberation from Spain. Three portraits of the silent prince appear on the set issued by the Netherlands in 1933, on the 400th anniversary of his birth.

Church Directors Hear Reports

YORBA LINDA, April 1.—Conventions in the Methodist church of Yorba Linda are particularly good this year, especially concerning finance, where debts are being diminished more rapidly than ever, according to reports at the fourth quarterly meeting of the church, held Tuesday night with Dr. James E. Dunning, district superintendent, presiding.

The Rev. J. Hunter Smith, pastor, Lewis Grimm for the Epworth league, Hurlis Barton for the treasury, committee all reported. Mrs. Smith reported on the activity of the Woman's Aid society. Lloyd Zimmerman reported for the trustees, and J. W. Brown for a campaign that has been completed. The regular church night meeting will be Friday, when the members of Mrs. W. E. Swain's class of the Sunday school will bring reports.

BRITISH DECLINE SEEN

LONDON (UP)—There will be 7,000,000 fewer people in Britain in 1971 than there are now, F. C. Honey, president of the National Confederation of Employers organization, said in an address to the Institute of Actuaries.

NORTHRUP WINS CLUB LAURELS

Orville Northrup won first place in the speaking contest held by Smedley Chapter of Toastmasters' International last evening at Dan- ighers, with his talk on "Universal Education for Youths".

Northrup stated that adolescent education is no longer a luxury but is a necessity because of the rapidly changing conditions of modern life.

T. E. McLeod won second place with his talk on the "Colorado River Aqueduct." He reviewed engineering features of the project. "Why Corporations Leave Home" was the subject of Ernest Byrne. He outlined reasons for many corporations being organized under the laws of Delaware.

H. O. Ensign discussed "The Schools Part in Democracy." "Gold" was the intriguing topic of Daniel K. Brown. Dr. Perry Davis and W. N. Cummings gave short talks. A. T. Kline presided as toastmaster, with R. Carson Smith as dictionary critic and Dwight Hamilton, general critic.

Dr. J. B. Price and John Dickey became new members. Dr. N. W. Love, Ernest Fields, Phil Crittenden, Robert Correy, Carl Killison, Herman Zabel and C. W. Curtiss were visitors.

GROWERS PLAN TO STOP SHIPMENTS

SANTA MARIA, April 1.—(UP)—A new type of "sit-down" strike—in which cauliflower growers and shippers refused to market their product—is scheduled to start here tomorrow in protest against falling prices.

Declaring that the present prices are "not enough to pay for harvesting," the shippers and growers will cease movement of their produce for three days or longer if necessary to bring prices back "to where we at least won't lose money."

The largest supply of cauliflower in the country is ready for shipment from here now.

M'Vickar Now Is With Shoe Firm

W. H. McVickar, formerly with the Famous Department Store in Santa Ana, returned to this city and now is with the Dr. A. Reed Shoe Company, 313 North Broadway street. He has been away from Santa Ana for the past year working in Pasadena, Huntington Park and Los Angeles.

McVickar has had many years' experience in the retail shoe business, having been employed in leading shoe stores in the east, middle west and west. He is an expert fitter and will be glad to greet his old friends and former customers at his new location, he said today.

TROUBLE BREWS

When a sailor meets a cook, trouble sometimes brews, scamen sometimes say. Trouble brewed in Birch Park yesterday afternoon, according to report of Officer Chet Gross to Officers Harry Fink and Charles Wolford, who investigated and arrested Frederick Westfield, 76, 316 North Parton, and James M. Carson, 70, 1015 1/2 West Second, on drunk charges. Westfield, born in England, said he was a sailor once; Carson said he was a cook once. The pair was booked at county jail.

THIEF FRIGHTENED

Investigation of activities of a bicycle-riding burglar who attempted to enter a grocery store at 623 South Flower, last night, was being made by city police today at request of Mrs. J. Lewis. The would-be thief ran from the screen from an easterly window of the store but was frightened away. Mrs. Lewis said she believed he escaped on a bicycle.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IT remains beyond human understanding how birds can find their directions in long-distance migration. None of the known senses seems to explain the phenomenon. Several tests have been made which do give some basis to the belief that birds can detect the earth's magnetic lines of force.

L. A. Attorney Says Tideland Pools Not California Property

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 1.—Attorney George B. Bush of Los Angeles, formerly legislative counsel for the state of California and special counsel for the city of Huntington Beach some years ago, was a visitor here this week and expressed the opinion that federal interests supersede those of city, county or state in the local tideland oil pool.

When Mr. Bush drafted the state mineral leasing act in 1921, he took the position that the tide and submerged lands and minerals therein were owned by the federal government.

He, however, holds to the view that if by any stretch of the imagination or strained construction of law it should be held that the federal government does not own them, then there is much in the constitution and laws of California to sustain the position that the state has divested itself of ownership, control and jurisdiction over the tide and submerged lands and minerals therein and invested the municipalities with control and jurisdiction for the distance of two miles beyond and within the incorporated limits of such municipalities.

"There has been no grant by the United States to the state of either the minerals or the tide and submerged lands," says Mr. Bush.

"The enabling act which made California a state specifically provided that California accepted statehood with a full recognition of the ownership and proprietorship in the United States of all lands within the boundaries of California which has not been patented, deeded or granted. The federal government has always reserved in the federal government minerals and the right to dispose of them."

DEED SCHOOL PROPERTY

LACUNA BEACH, April 1.—The city of Lacuna Beach, by deed and grant conveyed to the Lacuna High School the property now occupied by the Boy Scout Hut on Valley Drive, hitherto owned by the city. This action was taken by mutual consent and brings the Boy Scout property under the jurisdiction of Lacuna High, which, with its extensive gymnasium and track equipment, will fit into many athletic activities of the Scout program.

The evening was spent playing bridge and prizes were awarded to Lenora Graham, first, and Marguerite Williams, consolation. At this session which begins at 10, a group of musical numbers will be rendered by John Ferguson, of the high school faculty, with Mrs. Jessie Riddell as accompanist.

Children of other school will witness the production the afternoons of April 13 and 14 while the evening performance will be April 15. Because of lack of facilities at Broadway school, the performances will be given at the auditorium at Horace Mann school.

Others in the cast include Betty Sims, George Davidson, Mary Alden, Margaret Albin, Rosanna Booher, Zola May Van Atta, Russell Townsend, Grant Howard, Robert Gillett, Marvin Schmitt, Frank Kellogg, Alfred Morales, Bob Comstock, Harold Hargrove, Charles Hill, Dorothy Dean Schaeffer, and Virginia Osborn.

Object To Bathing Suit Laws

LAGUNA BEACH, April 1.—Bathing suits, their occupants, proposed sumptuary legislation covering the various angles and curves involved, formed the basis for a petition signed by 42 citizens, mostly business houses in the down-town area, requesting that the council maintain a "hands-off" attitude, and that the city fathers pass no ordinance prescribing the type of garb to be worn by swimmers.

The petition, which pointed out the likelihood of the city "making itself ridiculous" or at least, the "subject of ridicule," by any such action, went on to state that the signatories to the document felt that no necessity existed for such legislation as has been requested by another group of people seeking greater coverage of bathers. Apprehending loss of business to established merchants on the Boulevard, with unfair advantage granted to temporary enterprises fronting on the boardwalk, the signers prayed that council take no action. The petition was filed for future reference; no action was taken by the council, proponents of the "cover-am-up" movements being absent.

Boys, 16, Wears No. 23 Shoe, Stands "6-8"

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (UP)—Sixteen years old, 6 feet 8 1/2 inches tall and still growing—the is William Percy, Connelville High school freshman. Eating is his favorite pastime. For breakfast he eats one or two grapefruit, two or three cereal biscuits and drinks a quart of milk. Lunch, he says, usually consists of "whatever is in the house."

"But ice cream is my favorite food," says William. "I eat by the quart. I just had 11 hot dogs for lunch, but I wasn't very hungry."

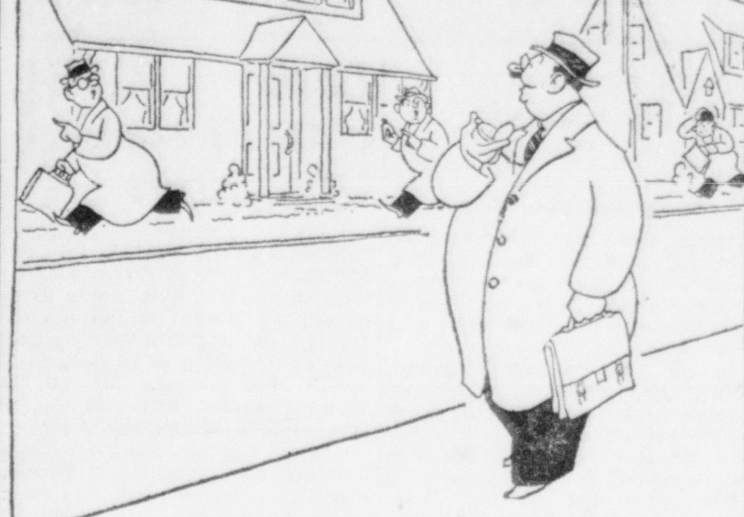

He can pick up the front end of an automobile or a billiard table and can easily hoist a typewriter with one hand.

His 235 pounds rest on size 23 shoes which cost $50 a pair. Half-soling the shoes costs $2.50. He wears a size 17 1/2 shirt with an extra long sleeve. His waist measures 30 inches and his chest 45.

With arms outstretched, he measures 85 inches from fingertip to fingertip. Usually he eats two steaks, a quantity of fruit, a plate full of lettuce, a loaf and a half of bread and whatever side dishes happen to be available.

"As to his prospects, William says, 'I'm just the baby of the family. I've got an uncle who is 7 feet tall. He's full grown.'"

THIRTEEN HEARD AT CLUB MEETING

Santa Ana Lions were fooled today, because they came to the noon meeting ready to be fooled. Lyle Anderson, appointed program chairman, had promised a meeting of unusual and varied interest. Lions didn't believe him, and when he actually presented a well rounded program, they were really fooled.

Anderson took the opportunity to introduce 13 recently initiated members. Each of the 13 spoke briefly of his occupation. Those participating in the program were Norman Abell, Jack Snow, H. L. Manker, Irvie Stein, Frank Orr, Dr. Don R. E. Waters, Harold Matthews, Bill White, Thomas Willets, Vilas Childers and Forest Jones.

ATTEMPT MADE TO OUTLAW STRIKES

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(UP)—An unexpected attempt was made late today to outlaw sit-down strikes through an amendment tacked on the Guffey-Vinson coal control bill. The attempt was launched by Sen. James Byrnes, D. S. C., as the senate neared a vote on the coal bill, already passed by the house.

The amendment would make it unlawful for an employee to remain on company property after he had been advised that his services had been terminated.

Majority Leader Joseph P. Robinson, D. Ark., said he believed it would be impossible for the federal government to enforce the amendment if it were adopted.

MRS. VALLEY TO ADDRESS EBELL CLUB

ANAHEIM, April 1.—Mrs. Jack Valley is the scheduled speaker for Anaheim Ebells Monday afternoon at the K.P. hall. Ebells members are arranging the talk for 2 p. m. so that Junior Ebells members, particularly those who teach school, may attend.

Mrs. Valley's programs are always popular and the meeting Monday is opened to all wishing to hear her and holding special tickets. Guest tickets of the members will not be honored. Reservations must be made since the capacity of the hall is limited.

Mrs. Valley has chosen for her subject for the afternoon "Current Events as Mirrored in Modern Literature." She will discuss fiction, a play review and comments on other types of literature.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones © 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY MARTHA BRITAIN and BETTY HAYNES begin a trip up the west coast to demonstrate the new Alpacas trailer. They pick up GERRY NEAL, handsome young hitch-hiker. Neal tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK SPEDDON, at the Long Beach auto camp. But at Long Beach, Neal disappears from the trailer and Speddon drives away with Betty, taking to return.

Francis, Martha calls the police. Then she gets a wire, hours later, signed "Betty," and advising that Betty will meet her at a San Francisco hotel. Feverishly Martha starts out, trying to trace Betty en route. Returning to her trailer the second day, she is startled to see Neal. Her first impulse is to reach for her gun, but Neal stops this, tells her "this whole thing may be bigger" than she imagines. How far can she trust him, she wonders.

Finally she agrees to accompany Neal to San Francisco the next morning. She returns to the Del Monte to rest. She is troubled. Does she like Neal because she needs help, or does she need to sleep with the question unanswered.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VIII

NEXT morning Martha rolled the big streamlined trailer and the little coupe into the wide driveway of Del Monte. When she reached the veranda the resplendent door man touched his cap, smiled pleasantly, and said, "Good morning!" Heartened, Martha replied in kind and proceeded into the lobby of the hotel. "I wonder," she was thinking, "if Gerry Neal will really—" But before she could even form the doubt in her mind she saw him hurrying toward her.

"Good morning, Miss Brittain! How about breakfast?" "I'm really starved," Martha confessed. "Then right this way!" They walked through a long, beautifully furnished lounge. Through one glass wall Martha looked out on a perfect picture. Neal echoed her thought. "Isn't it a glorious day?" he asked.

The head waiter bowed as they reached the dining room. "Good morning, Mr. Neal." Was there a special deference in his bow, Martha wondered, or was this just ordinary Del Monte courtesy? "I've your favorite table," the waiter went on, and led the way.

As they seated themselves, Martha smiled. "San Diego hitch-hiker has favorite table at Del Monte!" Neal laughed. "But isn't it really a very nice table? Look out there."

Martha obeyed. Below them was a sunken garden, filled with the beauty of California flowers.

"I wouldn't believe you," she said. "Suppose I told you she hasn't yet reached the Palace, and that therefore we might as well stay here a day and go on north in the morning."

PUBLICITY FOR SANTA ANA

Santa Ana will get much favorable publicity from the visit of the Elks double quartet to the national convention to be held in Denver in July.

The double quartet in itself is an asset to any community but the attendant publicity that surrounds a national convention of the size that will convene in Denver is worth literally thousands of dollars. And the local Elks' club is planning on capitalizing on this publicity. The Chamber of Commerce will send hundreds of pieces of booster literature. The packing houses in Orange county will send boxes of oranges to be distributed at the conclave. Already publicity has been sent to the two large Denver papers and assurances have been received that the stories will be printed.

In addition there is every probability that the double quartet will be featured on a nation-wide broadcast over one or both of the two big networks. The octet also has been booked to sing before the Denver Lions club and the Denver Rotary club.

Only good can come from sending the Elks double quartet to the convention and those who have heard this group sing believe that the boys have an excellent opportunity of capturing first honors in competition with the leading singers of Elks clubs throughout the nation.

Support for the Elks in raising funds to send the double quartet to the convention should not be withheld.

A FUNDAMENTAL LAW

There is one passage in the Bible which we wonder how many people understand and it is one of the most important principles of life set forth in the Bible. If people understand it, judging by our customs and our laws, they make little use of it. The principle is set forth in the 24th chapter of Matthew, 21st verse.

It is: "Well done thou good and faithful servant: Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: Enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

This rule is followed by all successful business organizations. Those that are faithful are promoted and rewarded. It is true that there are errors and sometimes organizations do not follow this rule but, if they do not follow it in the main, eventually they are eliminated by organizations that do follow this rule.

Now the people of the United States seem, by their actions and their endorsement of the President, to be determined to turn over the management of affairs to the government and take it away from the individual.

A question to be considered, if we are to follow this fundamental rule of life set down in the Bible, is whether or not the government has been successful in the trusts given it by the people in the Constitution. One of the most important trusts the covenant of the Constitution gave the government was to coin money and regulate the value thereof. Has the government been successful in this stewardship? Has it permitted a relatively uniform price of commodities to prevail? For instance, wheat and copper are now four times as high as they were four years ago; then they had dropped to a small fraction of what they were ten years before that. The whole commodity price level fluctuates very rapidly and all students of money are convinced that it is due to the mismanagement of the control of the value of money given Congress by the Constitution.

Another example: the covenant of the Constitution gave Congress the right to levy taxes. Have they succeeded in levying taxes enough to pay the government's expenses and have they levied them in a manner that promoted the general welfare. If there is any one thing of which the government has made a failure, it is the method of levying taxes; in their failure to levy taxes as any honest, just person would do, namely, charge individual citizens in proportion to what they cost the government. In other words, there should be no taxation without representation and there should be no representation without taxation because either one of them will destroy any government in time. When there is taxation without representation, it eventually means slavery, or when there is representation without taxation, this rule also eventually leads to slavery.

Another important stewardship granted to Congress—to enact laws to prevent special privileges. Have they succeeded in this? They certainly have not and it is for this reason we now find millions of people out of work and the real wages of the workers at least half of what they should be. They have given the bankers a special privilege of coining credit used as money, receiving large amounts of wealth which they did not produce. They have allowed combinations for restraint of trade in order to reward those in the combination for restraint of trade to the great detriment of those who are trading with the group restraining production.

The post office is often cited as an illustration of good government management. The post office is so controlled by the politicians that they charge some people many times what the service costs and others they give the service absolutely free. It has never charged enough as a whole to pay the expense and the cost is charged up to those who do not use the service. It is a nice example of favoritism and cowardice in management.

Yet in face of all these facts, and with no stewardship showing good management in private affairs and with failures in the most important stewardships granted the Congress, we now propose to give them authority to further regulate the lives of people by laws attempting to regulate the number of hours a man dare work to serve humanity, the reward he must receive for his services, the kind of business that can be expanded, how much can be sold. We now propose to turn over all this management which must be planned years and years in advance to Congress which changes every two or six years—an absurdity on the face of it.

We have now revised the rule. We say thou hast failed in everything we have delegated to you so we will make you ruler over our lives.

A LITTLE EVIDENCE PLEASE

In today's issue, Heywood Broun takes the privilege of quoting some solicitor, evidently from the Herald-Tribune, in soliciting a subscription for the paper. He quotes the solicitor as saying:

"Don't you realize that this paper, through Walter Lippmann, Mark Sullivan and even little Dorothy Thompson, is carrying on the fight to preserve the status quo, the rights of big business and the rule of the Supreme Court? You ought to subscribe."

We do not believe that Mr. Broun is telling the truth. We think he is deliberately misstating facts to put an absurd statement like this in the mouth of a solicitor and regard it as a motive of those who are opposed to the voting majority having the right to take away freedom of worship, freedom of contract, freedom of thought and of act to develop character and to serve humanity. It is, to say the least, stooping to very low tactics. But when men have no thoughts of their own, no ideas, they invariably become important by finding fault with people who really raise wages and who really reduce costs and serve humanity.

The other day Heywood Broun had the nerve to say that his column was not controversial. It is not only controversial, but we do not believe he is truthful.

Even if some solicitor did make such a foolish statement, it does not in any way represent people who read for information and do not read to try to prove that their opinions are right. No thoughtful person who demands difficult tasks of himself has any desire to preserve the status quo. He does, however, desire to preserve the status quo as far as the human rights are concerned to worship, freedom of thought and act and freedom of expression, etc. We believe in letting such men as Broun talk and, sooner or later, people will come to learn his motive and his cowardice. He will not even attempt to defend his position when he is challenged. He only finds fault.

It is men like this, who write for pay without any regard to how they fool the unthinking person, that is largely responsible for our present unemployment.

CURTAILING PRODUCTION BY LAWS

Few people realize how much the government has prevented production of wealth. For nearly a quarter of a century, the government has been taking away part of the tools of those people who produce wealth the most rapidly. They have done this by very discriminatory graduated income tax.

Taking away the tools, which is simply what a tax is when it is a tax on production, greatly retards the amount of wealth that can be produced in a nation where the standard of living is high. This is true because new ideas and new inventions invariably require large amounts of capital and almost a genius in management. Thus, to take away the tools of those who have been successful in rapidly adding to the wealth, greatly reduces the total production.

Now, the new dealers are proposing to further curtail production by increasing the Supreme Court so that Congress can make laws to restrict the number of hours a man may work, what industries may be expanded and thus, further reduce production.

It is amazing that people do not realize that in any way stopping production is bound to reduce their own real purchasing power and living standards.

PROMOTION TO BETTER POSITION

If you ask any workman whether he believes he is entitled to be promoted to a better position if he is more efficient than those who have the better jobs, he of course will say he should have the right to be promoted.

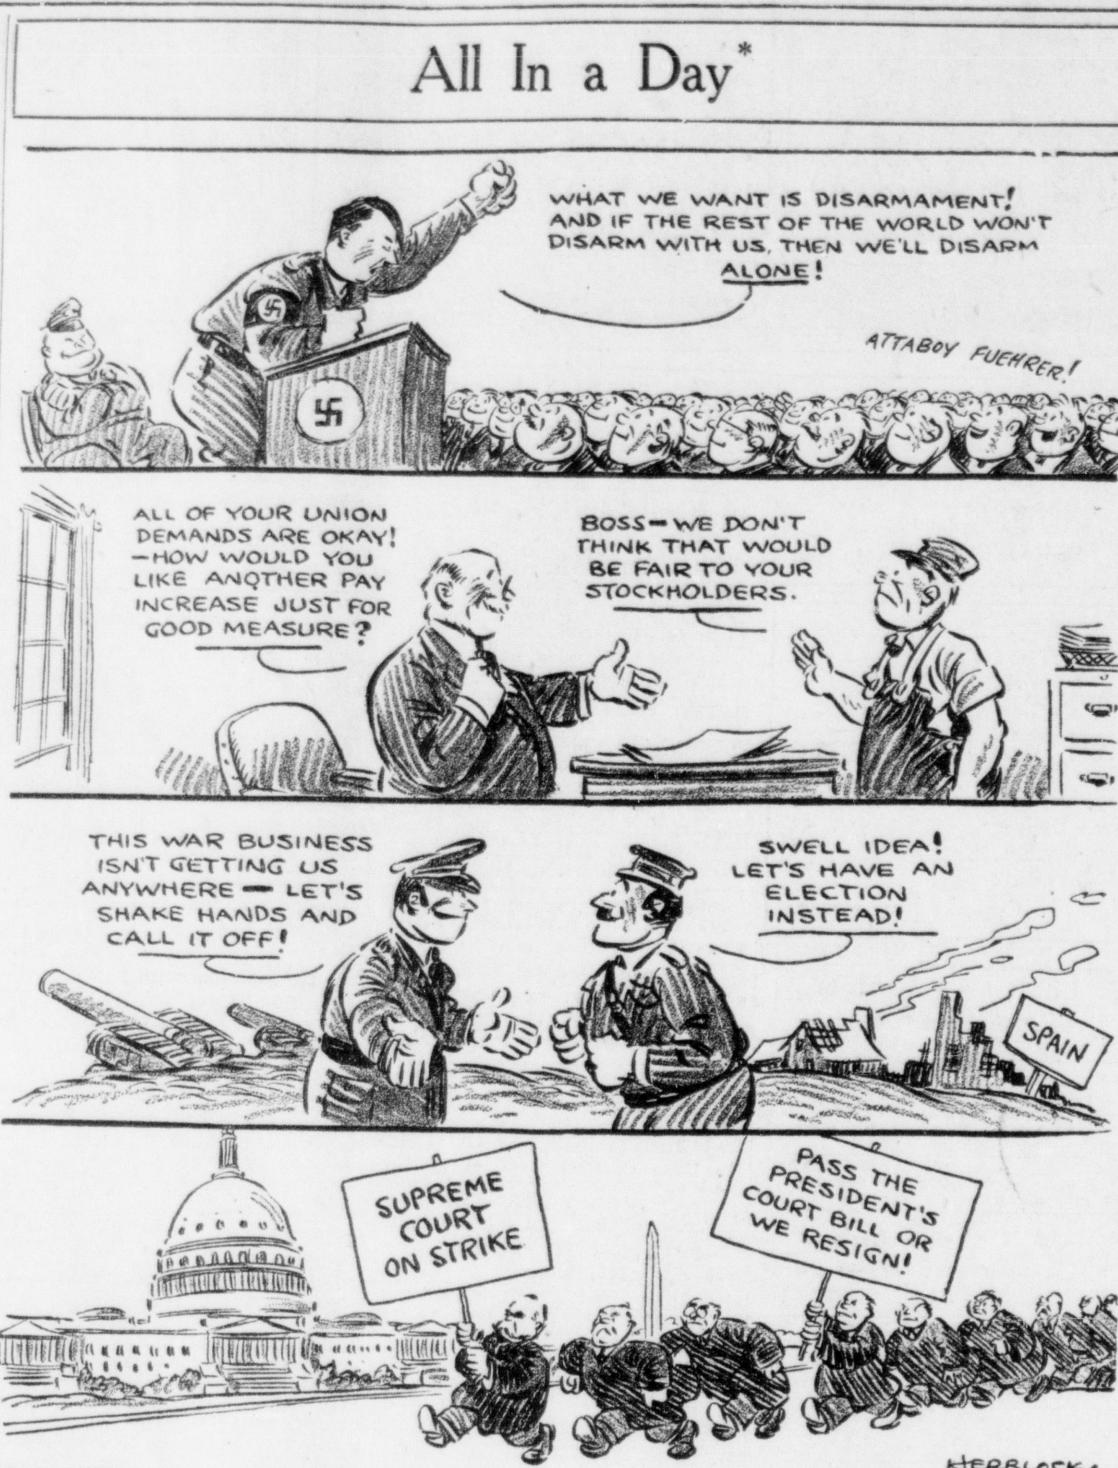

When, however, it is proposed that those below him should have the same right to be promoted, if they are more efficient than he is, he cannot see that they have the right.

This is the crux of the whole collective bargaining proposition. It is a one-way street. They want the right to be promoted but they do not want those below them to compete with them for their jobs.

A one-way law will not work because there are always people below and always people above. If a man has a right to be promoted, he must also compete with those who hold less profitable positions.

The workers will eventually have to take their choice—whether they want a caste system that freezes them into their position or whether they want a right to be promoted as well as compete with those below them.

Something like home that is not home is to be desired; it is found in the house of a friend.—Sir W. Temple.

It Seems to Me by HEYWOOD BROUN

There was a Greenwich Village poet who did a verse which created universal delight for at least a week. It ran:—

"I sing and sigh and also curse; Thus only can I give expression To that which will not brook repression."

I am alive, I have a voice, And so I sing and sigh and curse. It would be presumptuous for me to compare myself to the poet, for I seldom sigh and never sing, but I have a voice, and it has seemed to me that I was doing considerable cursing down one particular alley. But this morning a feeling of futility overwhelmed me. I have not been heard, and, worse than that, I have not been heard. The rear of the battle has completely obliterated the husky whisper of this columnist as he politely murmured, "Excuse my glove." The first and only letter which I received yesterday bore the letterhead "The Gannett Newspapers," and it read:—

A Letter From Mr. Gannett "Dear Mr. Broun:—

"Will you join me in helping defeat the President's proposal to pack the Supreme Court?"

"Beginning the day after the President's startling announcement, this committee has stirred to action leaders of the country and through their groups—reaching 70,000 farm and rural leaders, 115,000 business men, 138,000 doctors, 151,000 lawyers and 146,000 clergymen."

"Now the issue must be carried to 6,000,000 farm homes and into the ranks of labor. And these and others must be kept in action until the fight is won."

"Already $800 individuals have contributed $36,000 in amounts ranging from $5 to $500. To win, however, more money is needed now to finance mailings, radio broadcasts, printing and meetings."

"Our success in defeating political domination of the Supreme Court may determine the kind of government you and your children will live under. The issue transcends party lines. We appeal to Democrats and Republicans, to rich and poor alike."

"Your immediate help is needed. Will you give, as an American, according to your means?"

"Sincerely, NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO UPHOLD CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT. "Frank E. Gannett, Chairman."

A Farmer's Answer I wish I could give an answer one-half as apt as that made by an Italian friend of mine who runs a truck garden north of Stamford, Conn. I happened to be visiting him last Sunday. He was working on a wall which surrounds his little farm, and I was sitting on a rock near by helping him by carrying on a running fire of conversation.

Little Benny's Note Book BY LEE PAPE

Today was Nora's day off so Ma had to get the supper, being liver and onion's in pop's honor, pop having 3 helpings and then saying, Well, this has been a fine meal, if I do say so myself.

I mite appreciate it more myself if I didn't have all the trouble of cooking to look back on and all the bother of washing up to look forward to, Ma said. The least you can do will be to help me carry out the dishes, she said, and pop said, I have a cleverer idea than that. I'll smoke my cigar down here in the dining room and Benny and I will guarantee to provide the comic relief for your little tragedy and thus make it a really satisfactory performance.

Silvery speeches, Ma said. And she started to take some dishes out to the kitchen and pop winked me a private wink and balanced a plate on top of his head and I quick took one and balanced it on top of my head and Ma came in and saw us, saying, O my goodness my good china, and it's a closed pattern and I couldn't match it for all the kings horses, you crazy silly things. Dont move, dont budge, I'll take them off, she said.

Wich she did, pop saying, We'll now put on a little minstrel show for you. Benny will be Bones and I'll be Tambo. Good evening, Mr. Bones, ask he how I feel, he said, and I said, Good evening, Mr. Tambo, how do you feel this evening?

I feel like a scrambled egg, pop said, and I said, How's that, Mr. Tambo? and he said, All broken up. How do you feel this evening, Mr. Bones? he said.

I feel like a pumped up tire, I said, and pop said, How's that, Mr. Bones? and I said, Full.

The audience is strangely unresponsive, pop said. Meaning Ma not laughing, and she said, I'd think it was much funnier if I saw you both helping me with these dishes.

Wich she did, making up new minstrel jokes at the same time.

Register Clearing House

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register: Fairness is a wonderful virtue. It is quite fair for The Register to refuse the demand of J. Herbert Bray that communications containing facts and arguments displeasing to him be excluded from its columns.

Is it not true that people who govern their conduct and constrain their convictions according to their own private interests and the money motive, rather than the public welfare, are inclined to be prejudiced, bigoted and intolerant?

If newspapers printed only what they are paid for with money, we would be deprived of many valuable, educational opinions by learned writers who are moved by their interest in the public welfare to voluntarily express themselves.

It would be bigotry and intolerance to deny "the freedom of the press" to those who are generous of their time and efforts to give the results of their research and study, free of charge, to the general public.

In this connection, let it be observed that The Register has published opposing articles in which there have been displayed conflict of opinions, precedents and principles.

The dictators in Germany, Italy and Russia punish with imprisonment or death the publication of opinions they do not agree with. It is hoped Mr. Bray would not subscribe to such policies.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

"I'M DISGRACED"

Roger did poor work in his arithmetic and spelling and didn't seem to care when the teacher reproached him and marked both papers with big round zeros done in bright red. "Very well, young man. You take both these papers home and have your mother sign them. Let her see what a lazy boy you are. She'll be just as much ashamed of you as I am. And as your classmates are. Won't she, children?"

"Yes, Miss Acorn."

Roger indicated that he didn't care. Just lifted an eyebrow and shrugged a shoulder. He had good control of his feelings if he hadn't much understanding of the Cost and Selling price problems. He wouldn't show them how bad he felt, not for the world. He took the papers and folded them elaborately before he tucked them into his pocket. When he went home for lunch he handed them to his mother with a careless, "Miss Acorn told me to give you these."

"Why Roger. This is awful. Aren't you ashamed? I am. I feel disgraced. That I have a boy that gets such marks. I'm disgraced." Nobody knew that Roger hid in the playground and cried himself into a headache. Everybody was too busy being disgraced to think about what was happening to him, or how to set about helping him to get a good mark and be glad about it.

Feeling "disgraced" is a weapon that must be kept well guarded and rarely if ever used, for its use is likely to be devastating. Its deadliness is not apparent until its work is past undoing. It makes bewildered children search for ways to escape. They bite their nails and invite further "disgraces." They suck their thumbs and twist their hair, fall into the clutches of St. Vitus Dance, all because somebody felt disgraced instead of feeling useful to a failing child.

Such children are among those who try to cheat their way to high marks. They cannot win them by their own efforts and they see no way of escaping that dreadful, "I'm disgraced; you're disgraced; they're disgraced," save by the really disgraceful method of cheating. When a school child cheats you usually will find the reason outside of the child's own desire. Somebody has felt disgraced and wrathful and the child has been afraid to have the experience repeated.

This is often responsible, too, for the changed marks on report cards, the most awful of school sins. It threatens so many evils, this changing of marks, signing of names, planned deception that school people are atremble at sight of it, and no wonder. Most of it can be eliminated by feeling helpful rather than disgraced.

A failure is a signal for help. Analyze the child's work. Find the failure, search for its cause and TEACH him. Let there be no disgrace about failure in school lessons. The place for that is in a lack of effort, and that is very rare. Able children do their best. Save the disgrace weapon for fundamental failures in ethics and good morals. Use it only as a last, desperate resort, and not then if you can call up spiritual reserves. Let the word rest. Be helpful.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

INFLATIONARY PROPAGANDA WASHINGTON, April 1.—A bitter hater of price specialists is Agriculture Secretary Wallace. When Federal Reserve Board Eccles denounced their current dirty work, Mr. Wallace immediately doubted the denunciation. He implied these inflation-makers are helping to cause a vicious spiral and the situation is getting into the clouds.

Mr. Wallace did not name any inflationary propagandists, but gave his hearers reason to believe he would like to get his hands on them. Just a friendly tip, he might walk out of his office door, turn the corner and go down the corridor to his U. S. Department of Agriculture Office of Information, press service, from which announcements have come lately with the following official headlines:

"Higher hog prices expected this summer."

"Higher spring lamb prices than last year forecast."

"Cattle prices expected to average above 1936."

"Expect world wheat prices to continue at high levels."

— — — And three or four others similarly contributing the only concrete evidence of inflationary propaganda now being circulated in Washington.

AMBIGUITY Such governmental predictions of future prices are extremely rare. The government has always been content to estimate crops to the best of its ability, but generally leaves speculative price interpretation to unofficial speculators.

Just why it has joined the inflationists in this instance is not clear to some who think they know many things going on in the agriculture department.

Economists who have analyzed the announcements say there is reasonable ground for the predictions, but that they do not contain convincing proof.

Some are inclined to suspect lack of coordination between Mr. Wallace and his assistants. Others suggest that perhaps Mr. Wallace and his helpers are playing the same game as Commerce Secretary Roper and Labor Secretary Perkins on sit-down strikes. Mr. Roper denounces them on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while Miss Perkins defends them Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. On Sundays, everyone gets a rest.

By denouncing price specialists and permitting his department to predict higher future prices, Mr. Wallace certainly is following out the best traditions of his long and firm stand in favor of both curtailment and expansion of farm production.

After all, there is nothing safer in politics than being on both sides of a question.

PARITY Government boosting of price hopes is all the more remarkable because the long-sought goal of agricultural prices apparently has been reached. Since the war, all agricultural relief programs have been devised to achieve parity. That is, everyone has been seeking to give the farmers the same price ratio with manufacturing products as existed in 1909-14. The theory was that the farmer should have a price for his products comparable with the change in the prices of things he buys.

The AAA experts here figure that farm prices as a whole reached 98 per cent of parity on February 15. On that mid-month date, the index of prices received by farmers stood at 127, while the index of prices paid was fixed at 129.

February prices by commodities, compared with the parity estimate computed for the month, follow:

Commodity	Price Parity
Cotton, per lb. (cents)...	124 15.5
Corn, bushel (cents)...	103.6 84.4
Wheat, bushel (cents)...	124.9 117.6
Oats, bushel (cents)...	52.7 54.1
Hay, ton (dollars)...	11.84 15.79
Beef Cattle, cwt. (dollars)...	6.48 6.92
Hogs, cwt. (cents)...	3.19 9.06
Potatoes, bus. (cents)...	130.2 92.2

These figures show most of the major crops have achieved the long-sought price goal.

Note: Lesser commodities stacked up this way:

More than parity—chickens, wool, veal calves and horses.

Less—eggs, butter, lambs.

H. C. L. The extent of the "spiraling" that has been going on so far is disclosed in current figures from the bureau of labor statistics. These show the cost of living is up about 10 per cent over this time last year, while farm prices are up about 25 per cent.

Actual figures for the weeks ending March 20 this year and last were:

	This Year	Last Year
Farm Prices.....	94.4	76.7
Foodstuffs.....	87.9	79.8
Manufacturing.....	85.6	78.8
All.....	87.6	79.3

(1926 = equals 100)

CONCLUSIONS What this means is: Despite the so-called inflation, prices are yet substantially below a 1926 "normal," but it may not be long before people again start talking about the high cost of living. Some prices are going faster than others. Salaries and fixed incomes (pensions, dividends, etc.) do not fluctuate appreciably.

No one, not even the agriculture department, is predicting where prices will go or how it will all work out in the end, if there is one.
